WELCOME FROM THE BOARD

Kia ora koutou Parents, Caregivers and Guardians,

We welcome your interest in enrolling your son at St Paul's College. St Paul's has a proud history and tradition built on the strong Catholic values of the Marist Brothers. A Marist school for boys has been on this site since 1903. In 1955 the name of the school was changed to St Paul's College.

Academic achievement is celebrated at St Paul's and sits at the core of every student's progress. To encourage and support this, St Paul's ensures it has strong and inspired leadership, quality teachers and modern buildings, all of which promote a positive learning environment.

The expectation of our students is that they take pride in themselves and the school. We encourage students to strive for excellence in all that they do.

The development of the whole student is achieved through a strong and caring pastoral emphasis and exposure to wide ranging extra-curricular activities. Pathways and learning opportunities are key for staff and students alike. Through sporting, musical and cultural activities, students learn teamwork, discipline and acquisition of new skills. We aim to foster a culture that promotes a love of learning and continuous improvement.

As a College we enrol families rather than individuals. This develops a strong, supportive and engaged community ensuring success for both the school and our young men.

Confortare Esto Vir.

FOUNDERS OF ST PAUL'S COLLEGE – THE MARIST BROTHERS

The tradition of Catholic education that is known as “Marist” was begun by a French priest, Saint Marcellin Champagnat, in 1817. Today, Marist schools, colleges and universities are found in over seventy-five countries around the world, shaping young people to be good Christians and good citizens.

St Marcellin initially established a network of village schools when he realised the ignorance of rural children in southern France. These schools were warm, unpretentious places with a strong family spirit where hard work and achievement were valued and individuals were loved and prized. As Marcellin himself had experienced learning difficulties, special concern was afforded to students who found school difficult. Above all, these schools had the gospel at their heart and encouraged students to respond to it with the same faith and generosity as Mary had done.

In New Zealand there are fifteen Marist schools that are well known for their academic, cultural and sporting achievements. In their attempt to personify the Christian faith, these schools are set apart by the closeness to the communities they serve, and for the strong spirit which exists within them.

At the heart of the Marist school is a distinctive spirituality. Marists commit themselves to living the Gospel of Jesus with the same faith, hope and compassion that Mary did and this is the essence of their particular spiritual tradition.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR ST PAUL'S COLLEGE?

1. Learning is seen by all students as important and all daily activities are directed to that end.
2. The graduate of St Paul's College is recognised by his sense of community and his positive life direction.
3. St Paul's men are hard workers and persevere to the finish with commitment.
4. St Paul's men recognise that while their DNA has divine origins - under the cosmos they are humble men.
5. The community of the College is characterised by high all-round achievement and an ethos where families are enrolled.

HEADMASTER'S MESSAGE

Growing tomorrow's men is our focus and drive.

St Paul's College enrolls young students and provides them with the support and guidance that turns them into men. The college was established here on this site in 1955 and has been building young men for all these years.

This is what we do to develop our students into young men.

1. Students are addressed as gentlemen from the time they start at the college

This gives them a sense of pride that they are treated as young adults. It also gives them status and aspiration to model their behaviour and direction in life. They are expected to have manners, show respect, hold themselves well and have exemplary behaviour. Some of this needs to be modelled and taught, we excel at this, preparing these men for their interactions with society on a daily basis.

2. Students take pride in their uniform

This brings in a good sense of dress not only to school but on many an occasion outside of school. Taking pride in how they present themselves is an important part of being men of tomorrow. At St Paul's College, we are insistent that every student wears a tie and that all Year 11-13 students wear a blazer on campus and to all classes at school. Wearing their uniform correctly ensures they are dressed well and are confident in their approach, which then has a positive bearing on their behaviour and achievement.

3. Students need to be well qualified

It is our expectation that all our students attain University Entrance (UE). Education is a path that well-trodden will ensure a successful future for our young men. At St Paul's, the curriculum is developed to ensure that these young men leave with UE as their basic qualification. They learn to respect the value of deadlines and finishing work to the highest standard at all times.

4. Students need to control being impulsive

This comes down to respect again and the need to be patient and follow protocol in class or outside. In class this means learning to put their hand up to answer questions and not call out answers. It brings about the need for students to wait a few moments before making a decision. It is also about not being impulsive and showing anger by being violent in words or actions.

5. Students need to express themselves

Communication is an important aspect of students turning into men and it is necessary for them to keep lines of communication open. They should be encouraged to speak clearly and have the courage to speak before others. This will enable them to express opinions confidently and to engage with other people. They learn to communicate appropriately with the right tone of voice and gestures.

It is my desire that St Paul's gentlemen become strong men with Catholic Marist values and a character to match.

Peace and Blessings

Headmaster

CREST

CONFORTARE ESTO VIR

This challenging motto was begun by Sacred Heart and continued by St Paul's to show the link between the two colleges. Sacred Heart College used to exist on the grounds now known as St Paul's. It is fitting that this connection be shown on our crest, which we wear with pride and which has inspired so many students in the past.

“In the Cross is salvation; in the Cross is life”

The sign of Christ's victory over sin and evil reminds us of our duty to bear OUR cross - to live our lives and conduct our daily duties with love for Him.

To “fight like the great St Paul” is to have faith, to persevere, to have passion for our learning, to be courageous and to demonstrate brotherhood.

St Paul wrote, “And take unto you the helmet of salvation, and the Sword of the Spirit, that is the Word of God”.

His words motivate us to change the world, not with weapons but with the truth of God's Word, in our thoughts, words and actions. Using the Sword of the Spirit means studying, practising and appreciating the Word of God.

“Ave Maria”

It is in the name of Mary, and under Her protection that Marist Brothers work. Her name and Her glory are special to all Marists. We wear our shield as a token of our love and loyalty.

“You are the light of the world.”

Our shield shows that our current duties are to study for intellectual and spiritual development. Later our duties will be to share knowledge and use it to help others.

The NZ native Kowhai tree and its beautiful yellow flower portray youth's charm and promise, leading us to ask ourselves, “How will we use this life, which like the kowhai flower, lasts but a short time, then withers and falls?” It inspires us to do our best in our short time here.

PRAYER AND SONG

COLLEGE PRAYER

The St Paul's College Prayer is said at every morning assembly.

E te Atua,

We pray for your blessings on everyone at St Paul's College as we seek to follow our guiding principles – respect and responsibility.

Mother Mary, we pray that we grow to understand and live our St Paul's values of faith, commitment, excellence, courage and brotherhood.

St Paul, we pray for strength to follow our college motto: Confortare Esto Vir - Take Courage, Be a Man.

St Marcellin Champagnat, Marist man of action - pray for us.

We ask this in the name of Jesus.

AMEN

COLLEGE SONG

The St Paul's College song is sung at all school occasions.

We are young; we hold the future, hallowed in our hands,

Ours the joy to spend our youth, seeking knowledge, seeking truth,

And with Paul as Patron – take our stand.

Chorus:

Gird on the sword of the Spirit, fight like the great St Paul,

Buckler shield, never yield, one Lord over all,

Yield we to none in courage, fight for the things we cherish,

Confortare Esto Vir - Let your voice ring loud and clear,

Hail the banner of St Paul's,

Floating from these hallowed walls.

PREFERENCE OF ENROLMENT
